Newsletter September 2018

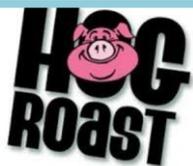

SUMMER UPDATE! Even with lots of people on holiday it has been a busy August for HPP. Some of us took our Dragons and Unicorns tombola to Waterlooville Summer Fair where we had a good day in spite of the inclement weather! We again met the new Mayor, Councillor Peter Wade, and he invited us to a Fashion Show he is hosting at the Edinburgh Woollen Mill in Waterlooville on Tuesday 16th October 2018. Tickets cost £5 and the doors open at 6:30pm for a 7pm start. All proceeds for the Mayor's Charities. I told him that I would advertise it in our September newsletter as we have decided not to hold another fashion show for HPP until next year. Do support him if you would like a new outfit for Christmas!

The places for the Gospel Choir Workshop are filling up fast and we can now confirm that we have reached our minimum number, so it is a definite fixture! We will continue to take names for places until about 20th October. David Wiseman lived up to his name and suggested a 'Promises Auction' as a fundraiser. See further details from David about it below. Do contact us to offer a 'promise', it can be as random as you like and it would be good to have some aimed at young people or families as well as adults.

Come and bid yourself a favour! The "Promises Evening" is a new style fund-raising event for HPP to be held on 2nd Feb 2019. All you need do is promise in advance a particular item[s] and/or service for auction and/or attend the event to bid for someone else's offering[s]. This is guaranteed to be a great fun event, provided there is a BIG attendance! Come and bid against your friends and help raise lots of cash!

Please submit your promises ASAP so that a list can be published in advance to enable others to consider what might interest them. Please do include a reserve (suggested minimum) price for each promise, if appropriate. These promises might, for instance, include lawn mowing (for a month?), driving someone to the shops or to an airport, car washing, making cakes or jam, giving a specific no of lessons/tuition in a particular skill, or some form of domestic help. The list is endless!! Contact jackychong@btinternet.com or at 01243 371074
